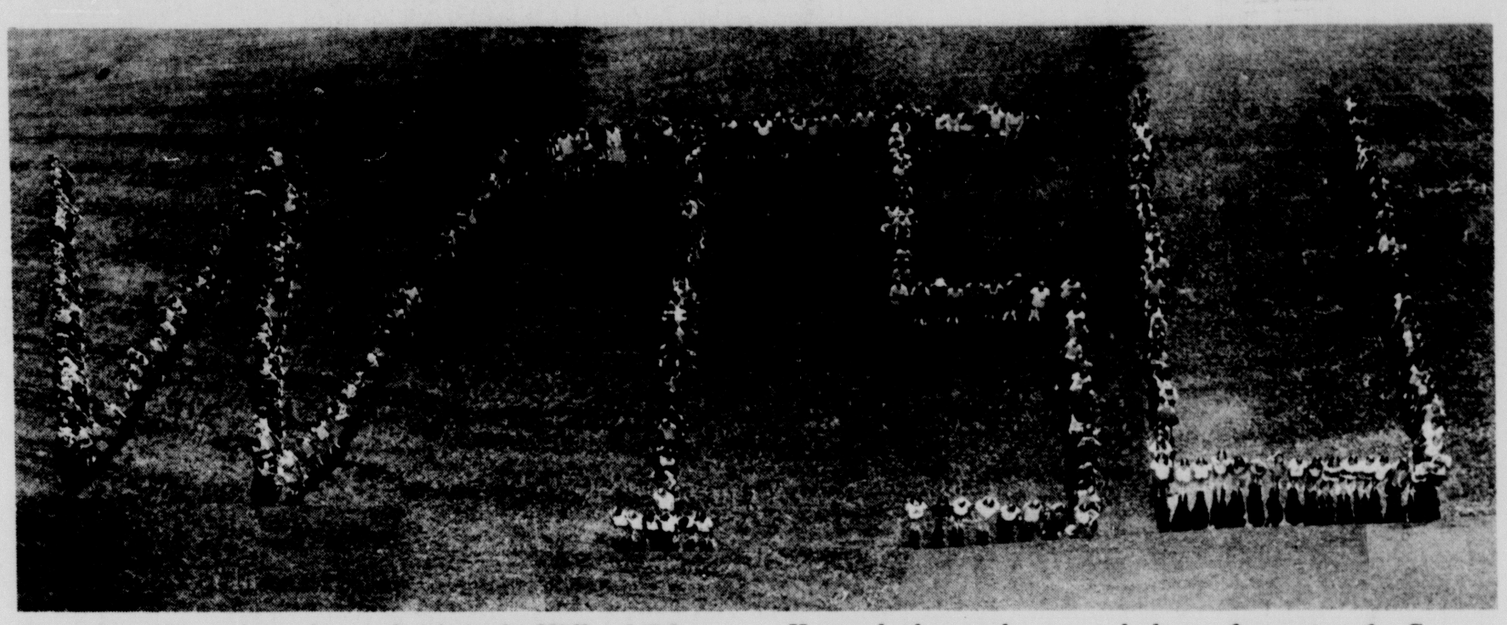
VOL. 78 NO. 17 | CANYON, TEXAS | THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1974 | 10 PAGES | 15 CENTS

Increases In School Taxes Expected



More than 300 students from schools in the Midland-Odessa area have spent the last week and a half in Canyon at the West Texas State University band camp. Photographer Andy Hester had to make several photos from atop the Canyon Fire Department snorkel unit, then put them together in this composite picture. Band camp ends this week end.

A tax increase of at least five cents appears likely for Canyon school district residents as board members continue planning next fiscal year's budget.

Board members reviewed Tuesday night a tentative and estimated 1974-75 school year budget which would require a tax increase of about eight cents per $100 valuation to balance.

The tentative budget as presented was figured on a tax rate of $1.80 per $100 on 40 per cent of valuation. Taxpayers are currently charged $1.75 per $100 on 40 per cent valuation.

And, Supt. Jerry Jacobs warned that to balance the tentative budget presented Tuesday night would require an additional three cents on the tax rate.

The budget presented for initial perusal represents a 12.7 per cent increase in expenditures over the budget used for the 1973-74 year.

It calls for expenditures to total $2,789,005 and for revenues to total $2,768,340, or about $20,000 less than expenditures.

The current year's tax rate was raised to $1.75 from $1.70 for the current operating budget.

Jacobs said if the tentative budget as presented is the final budget proposed to school board members for approval, the staff must come up with additional funds to balance the budget. He said he figures an additional one-cent tax hike would bring in about $7000 in revenue. Thus, he said, a three-cent tax hike over the five-cent hike built into the proposal would be necessary to balance the $20,000 projected deficit.

But, he said he hopes by more cutting, he can propose a budget which will require only a 6 to 6½ cent tax hike.

"The way everything's inflated, I don't see how we can cut ourselves too fine," said Board Chairman Tom Keeling. "We might wind up in the red next year."

Keeling noted that the budget needs flexibility to allow for rapidly climbing prices for goods and products the school must use.

The largest increase projected in the tentative proposal was for salaries for the school district's teachers, counsellers and administrators.

The salary increases, which amount to an average hike of about 10.2 per cent, are mandated by the Texas legislature's action installing a 10-year salary schedule for Texas school personnel.

Jacobs handed out copies of the salary schedule for each classification of employee on the schools' professional staffs.

The salary jump for teachers and administrators added almost $250,000 to the expenditure column of the tentative budget proposal.

The Canyon board looked over the schedule, which establishes minimum salaries for all professional employees and noted that in February they agreed to pay professional employees $500 more annually than that required by the state standards.

Board members also examined a budget for the athletic department of the school system, a budget only slightly over the 1973-74 budget.

Proposed expenditures for 1974-75 for athletics will be $37,935, compared to a 1973-74 budget of $37,160.

Income for the coming year is projected to be $37,175.

Sun Energy Eyed To Heat Pool

The only thing heating the city swimming pool this summer is solar energy, but next summer a West Texas State University professor hopes to have come up with a way for that energy to be harnessed to really warm the pool.

Since early in the swimming season, the large heating unit boiler at the Conner Park pool has been on the blink. City youngsters have learned the hard way that solar energy isn't exactly adequate when it bears down only from the heavens.

Dr. Vaughan Nelson, head of the WTSU physics department, has offered to do the calculations and make a recommendation to City Manager George Loudder on construction of a solar heating unit to replace the tired boiler.

Loudder said age proved to be the main problem with the heating unit now infrequently operating to heat the pool. The unit is powered by natural gas.

The only solution until Nelson's offer was to wait through the swimming season this summer and then during the winter purchase and replace the boiler with a new one. Cost of a new boiler would be about $3000, Loudder said.

Loudder said most water now going into the city pool is bypassing the boiler.

What that means is that early-morning swimming classes have become chilly affairs.

Nelson said he is confident a solar energy unit would work to

Newsman Slams Commission On Taxes

Resolution Outlines County Reappraisal Plan

Randall County commissioners passed an ambiguous policy statement Monday in a second-round effort to bolster an illegal tax structure, and then met as a board of equalization only to be blasted by an Amarillo newsman for the system.

During their regular session just before 2 p.m. Monday, commissioners unanimously okayed a resolution presented by Commissioner Bill Butler as what he termed a sequel to a resolution passed June 24.

Butler's proposal was not clear. It was not clear whether the resolution intended Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, to come up with a plan of her own for legalizing the tax structure, or whether Mrs. Bruse was to continue operating under the system approved June 24, a system which is unconstitutional.

The Butler motion:

"It is the intention of the commissioners court of Randall County, Texas, to tax all properties in the county equally and uniformly.

"A systematic plan by the Randall County Commissioners Court and the Randall County Tax Assessor for the appraising and equalizing of all properties should be adopted to conform to the Resolution of June 24, 1974.

"It is economically and physically impossible to revalue, equalize and make on-the-spot inspections of the 26,000 taxable units in Randall County in one year. The amount of time necessary for such evaluation would be four years.

"Planning by the Office of the Tax Assessor should result in the appraisal of Randall County property having a uniform percentage applied equally to all properties.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the Commissioners Court of Randall County, Texas, that we recommend to the Randall County Tax Assessor that a plan of equalizing and reappraising all properties in Randall County, Texas, be adopted to conform to the plan set out in the Commissioners Court meeting on June 24, 1974:

"1. The plan will extend over a four-year period;

"2. Each year at least one-fourth of all properties in Randall County, Texas, will be reappraised and equalized, with all taxable properties in the county being equalized and reappraised by 1978."

Shortly after 2 p.m. and the passage of the Butler proposal, commissioners met as a board of equalization and heard a half dozen complaints.

Paul Roberts, newsman for KGNC-TV in Amarillo, appeared before the commissioners and complained that their system is unconstitutional.

He asked them to lower the personal property taxes on his automobile, taxes paid on the basis of the following system: $1.05 per $100 of valuation on 17 per cent of the 100 per cent valuation of the automobile.

He said his taxes should be lowered to the rate charged currently for real property in the county, a rate based on the following system: $1.05 per $100 of valuation on 17 per cent of 85 per cent of the 100 per cent valuation.

Roberts quoted extensively from Texas Attorney General opinions and Texas Supreme Court cases to indicate the system which allows percentage figures to be used differently on different kinds of property is illegal.

Commissioners defended their action and denied the system is illegal.

Butler defended his system saying it would provide equality and uniformity. He said he felt the system legal and had not been advised to the contrary by the county's attorney.

Butler Statements Contradicted

Dowlen Says He's Given Advice

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said Tuesday he and Assistant Dist. Atty. Jim Blair "have been called upon numerous times to advise the commission" concerning its tax plans.

Dowlen's statement is in contradiction with two public statements by Randall County Commissioner Bill Butler contending the commissioners have never been advised by their attornies on the legality of a tax plan they have implemented and which is said to be illegal.

Dowlen said he and Blair, the county's tax attorney, have given commissioners advice on the tax plans, but would not reveal the nature of that advice.

"I'm not going to tell you what advice I gave them," he said. "You know what it was."

County commissioners had lunch Monday with Blair, but did not discuss county business during the lunch session.

Following the noon hour Monday, Butler presented his revised tax plan which is still alleged to be illegal. He originally proposed a tax plan in late June which perpetuated a system Texas courts have ruled unconstitutional.

Butler, while sitting as a member of the board of equalization Monday afternoon, told Paul Roberts, newsman for KGNC-TV in Amarillo, that commissioners have not been advised on the legality of the tax plan by the district attorney staff.

"The way we've set it up we think it's legal," Butler said. "We haven't been advised otherwise by our attornies."

Later in the session, Butler again reiterated his contention the plan is legal.

Butler was quoted in last Sunday's Amarillo Sunday News-Globe as saying the plan is legal.

". . .we have not been advised by our attornies whether the plan is unconstitutional or not," Butler said in the Amarillo article.

WT-City Water Project Nixed

Funding for a project which would pump Canyon sewer effluent to the West Texas State University Nance Ranch for irrigation uses will not be forthcoming in 1975.

That's the word this week from the Texas Water Quality Board, which has given the city-WTSU project a low priority rating in their funding schedule.

Canyon City Manager George Loudder said he was informed of the TWQB action this week by letter.

Loudder said the letter, while not an encouraging one was not discouraging either. He said the letter indicated the project will receive consideration for funding in 1976.

Loudder said a first-round denial of funding is not unusual for such projects.

"The project qualifies and will be considered," he said. "So we're not discouraged about it. It's kind of what we were expecting."

The letter cited the lack of funds available through the federal government for the project.

Loudder said funding for projects through the

A donation of $50,000 earmarked for construction of a new Fine Arts Building on the West Texas State University campus has been made by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lair of Canyon.

Citing a long-abiding interest in the future of WTSU, Lair said "We hope that West Texas State will become more and more a prestigious educational center recognized by the business and cultural communities of the Panhandle as a fine place for them to send their children and as a top place for them to recruit for their various business needs.

"We hope that in some way this donation will promote these objectives."

The funds will be administered to the West Texas State University Foundation, presided by Jack Walker, head of the WT department of Speech.

The Canyon attorney and his wife, Freddie, are WTSU ex-students whose

Standard Pay System Given Nod By County

County commissioners Monday gave a tentative go-ahead to further work by an Amarillo accounting firm on a standardized salary system for county employees.

Commissioners gave their approval to a tentative plan presented by Bill Francis of the firm Doshier, Pickens and Francis. The plan is just part of an extended performance audit to be performed by the firm for the county.

In reviewing his basic plan outline, Francis produced salary comparisons which he said indicated county employees are paid competitive wages.

The comparison chart produced by Francis includes Randall County salaries as compared to salaries paid by Potter County, the City of Amarillo, Swisher County and Hale County.

The comparison indicates that in all areas except the clerk area, county employees are paid on at least an equal footing with persons in similar positions in the other governmental units.

Francis proposed to come up with a finalized pay plan which would include job classifications and descriptions, recommended salary ranges, and a mechanism for awarding longevity pay.

The tentative proposal includes 22 job descriptions, ranging from Clerk I to deputy sheriff.

The lowest salary range to be paid under the Francis proposal would be to those in the Clerk I job, whose salary would be from $375 to $425. Laborers on road crews and custodians would likewise be fit into a similar salary range schedule.

Francis noted that if commissioners adopt his pay plan, no salaries of current employees would be lowered.

Next step in the auditor's performance audit will be discussions with various county elected officials concerning the staffing and work of their particular office.

In other business, commissioners backed Commissioner John Fulgenzi in his determination not to pave a section of road which runs into a mobile home park at 81st and Coulter in the north part of the county.

Fulgenzi told commissioners he's been receiving threatening phone calls from citizens who want the road paved or graded at least quarterly.

Drug Charges Against 3 Dropped After Decision

Drug-related charges against three Canyon men were dropped this week after a district judge announced he would not consider the prosecution's key witness a peace officer.

Charges were dropped on James Edwin Tucker, 22 of Umbarger, Joe Kent Shepic, 17, of 413 Holman Lane, and Terril Edwin Crow, 22, of 2305-C 7th Ave.

Crow had been indicted on two drug charges while Shepic and Tucker had been indicted on one count each.

They had been arrested in late October 1973 by Canyon policemen working on information from an undercover agent, Ron King, an itinerant.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said Monday he was dropping charges against the three youths due to a decision reached by 181st Dist. Judge Don Dean and transmitted to the District Attorney's office and to Harris Hampton, lawyer for the defendents.

The substance of the letter from Dean:

"After having considered the evidence produced in pre-trial together with briefs presented by the state and defense, it will be the judgment of the court that Ron King was not, at any time, material to the above cases, acting in any official capacity, and that he was not a police officer of the City of Canyon."

Dean's letter was dated June 17, and followed a lengthy pre-trial hearing held June 3 in his Amarillo courtroom.

During that hearing, Hampton questioned the operations of King, who testified in one recent trial that he also worked undercover in areas downstate.

Dean instructed both attornies to prepare briefs and cases on the point in question.

In filing the dismissal of charges, Dowlen said:

"By court order entered today by the Honorable Court, the evidence is insufficient in these cases to sustain a conviction, because the testimony of the witness King would necessitate corroboration by an accomplice witness and no accomplice witness is available."

The three cases dismissed represented much of King's work in Canyon for the police department last fall. The three were arrested along with Burns Olson, 24, of 2519 13th Ave.

The arrests were the result of a raid conducted early on Oct. 24, 1973 just as King was to take the stand in a court proceeding involving an alleged assault with intent to rape. King was a witness in the case.

Dowlen said in courts other than Dean's King has been allowed to stand as a bonifide police officer. He noted that Judge Ed Nobles of Amarillo has ruled that King was acting as an officer when he made the cases

Dry Weather Hurting Crop Outlook In County

An adolescent grain sorghum crop, a crop farmers are hoping will put a happy ending on what began as a sad year, is heading into critical growth stages without adequate ground water reserves and with dry weather ahead.

County Agent John Brazzil said rains historically avoid the Panhandle from about mid-July to late August, the time when sorghum needs a maximum of moisture.

In past years the dry period has not been a significant problem due to ground water reserves. But, this year, a year which has seen little moisture, the time could be particularly critical for dryland sorghum farmers.

Farmers with irrigated crops may also face trouble during the period due to increased water demands.

"The crop situation doesn't look good," Brazzil said.

Drought-like conditions impacted adversely on the county's wheat crop and very little wheat was harvested this spring and early summer.

Rains have still not broken the hold of the drought. And, Brazzil said it is usually in late August when cool fronts change the moisture picture for farmers.

TEXAS Triangles

The outdoor drama staged in Pioneer Amphitheatre of Palo Duro Canyon had a special guest at two performances of the show last week in the form of Paul Green, the show's author, who was on hand gathering more information to be used in a special off-season "sound and light" show to be staged for special tour groups during the off-season of the regular outdoor drama, according to Margaret Harper of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation here.

Green's masterwriting is this year in its ninth season of production and at the close of the show on July 18 a total of 39,080 had seen the show thus far in the season this year.

On July 11 with an audience count of 1,628 persons the traditional "triangle" was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hadley of Taiwan for travelling the furthest distance to see the show that evening. Included in the audience July 11 were groups from the Continental Shows, a Nashville, Tenn. tour group, a Beaumont tour group, groups from Littlefield and Roswell, N.M. along with groups from Oklahoma City and a Claude church.

The "triangle" on Friday, July 12, went to a tour group from Pakistan when the audience count was 1,606 persons including church groups from Clovis, N.M., Pampa, Cactus, Wichita Falls, Crestview and Shreveport, La.

Sun Hamor of China received the "triangle" at the July 13 performance. Attendance at that performance was 1,764 persons with two church groups present from Lubbock, a church group from Amarillo and tour groups from Dallas and Allentown, Penn. in the audience.

On July 15, Dung Ngac Do of China received the "triangle" at intermission. The audience numbered 1,644 persons. Included were the Cattle Feeders of North Carolina and a Texas Educational Services group.

Church groups from Lazbuddie and Fort Sumner, N.M. and tour groups from Abilene and Brownwood were among the 1,609 persons viewing the show July 16 as Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kennedy of South Korea received the "triangle."

On July 17, Chant Patananawin of Thailand received the triangle from among 1,440 in the audience. Tour groups from Dallas and Houston attended along with a group from the Bivins Nursing Home.

Canyon SCS Office Hosts Wind Erosion Training For Local Area

The Canyon field office of the Soil Conservation Service was host to a day of training on Wind Erosion for SCS personnel in the Amarillo-Canyon area.

Those receiving the training were Bill Casteel, Gary LaBorde and Sid Ricks of Canyon, Hack Coffee and Stephanie Brooks of Amarillo, Dan Herrington of Silverton, G. L. Westmoreland of Panhandle, David Bray of Vega, Carl Gilley of Dumas, Randy Underwood of Hereford, Larry Starner of Dimmitt and Jerry Williamson of Hartley.

Giving the training were Allen King, agronomist, Fred Pringle, soil scientist and George Davis, area conservationist from the Amarillo Area SCS Office.

King told the group that wind erosion is the number one soil erosion problem in the high plains. The Canyon SCS field office has reported 8,800 acres of land as being damaged by wind erosion during the 1973-74 season. King stated that, "Wind erosion is everybody's business."

King told the group of the various ways wind erosion can be controlled. Controls include emergency tillage to make soil more cloddy, windbreaks, effective protective area of windbreaks is 10 to 1, a 10 feet height will protect 100 feet, residue pattern on the land, sweeps reduce the straw residue left on top only 10 per cent, chiseling reduces it from 15 to 25 percent and one-way plow reduces it 50 percent.

Vegetal cover, either living or dead, is also a protection from wind erosion. Vegetal cover includes grassland, living cover such as wheat and sorghums and dead cover which includes all crop residues.

Flying Trip Real Experience To Wary Columnist

By TROYCE MULHERIN
Fly-High-In-The-Sky Greetings!

HAVE ALWAYS HEARD that, "There is a first time for everything." True, so true. Best friend recently decided that the time had come for her "first time" to fly on an airplane!

Only problem was that she didn't want to "enjoy" her "first time" all by her lonesome. So, her best friend was finally cajoled into accompanying her in this undertaking, such agreement being given only after a goodly amount of jesting and fun-poking.

Helpful friends shared calming pre-flight comments. Including, but certainly not limited to, such remarks as, "They used to have nurses to accompany passengers. Or a stewardess. Maybe you could get one of these." "I don't have any 'brave pills.' Will a tranquilizer do?" "They have barf bags on the plane, Aunt Joy!" "Oh, well. If you get lost in Dallas, there will be someone handy to help you find: A. Your way. B. Your luggage. C. The restrooms. D. The telephone. E. A Doctor. Etc., etc., etc." "Just wait, the tram will be back around after a while."

Really reassuring remarks were: "Sit in the tail section. Sometimes there are survivors who were sitting in the tail section." "They have gotten most of the bugs out of the things now." "Take a sack lunch just in case." "Send your gifts back by bus." The real clincher (almost) was: "Can I go down and take out some flight insurance in your name?" (Permission given). Pessimistic comments included: "I don't see how those things stay in the air." "I wouldn't ride on one of those things for anything." "No way!" "Hope you get back O.K. It sure is hard to find a substitute for bridge in the summer."

Contradictory advice included: "You better eat before you board the plane." "You better not eat before you get on the plane." "You will need some air-sickness pills." "You will not need any air-sickness pills." "Maybe you better get some of those pills."

Mucho appreciated comments. "It's the only way to go." (Had to wonder what the speaker really had in mind on this one. Final words, or wishful thinking?) "Don't worry about a thing." "It's fun!" "You'll love it."

Despite all the friendly and helpful advice, we boarded the airplane in Amarillo and stayed on it all the way to Dallas! After reading all the "What to do in case of an emergency" materials and familarizing ourselves with the exits, we calmly (lie) settled down to enjoy the remainder of the flight. The little sign concerning, "For Flotation use Life Vest under your Seat or Seat Bottom Cushion" was not taken too seriously. After all. The oxygen mask demonstration was followed closely, though. One never knows when one may feel the need for a little extra oxygen. We didn't really see too much need in unbuckling the seat belts either. It was only a 50 minute flight. Just get the bothersome things unbuckled, and it would be time to buckle up again. Right? Right!

Guess what? We liked it! We liked it! We liked it! We made it all the way to Dallas and back! We are brave! There is a whole new world out there. A world in which someone else is asking, "May I get you something?"; "Are you comfortable?"; "Is everything alright?" Those airline people really do care.

Next week, or soon anyway, we are going somewhere else on an airplane. Don't care where. Just so it is far away, so we can stay on the plane longer. And, be waited on.

Tracy's mom, Margaret, will come home from a stay in the hospital in time to celebrate her birthday on the 28th. Get-well-soon wishes are sent to Margaret from all her friends in the Gene Howe area!

SEVERAL GENE HOWE area students are playing on Canyon's All-Star team, which has won the area playoffs. The first win was a 9-3 game over Pampa with Kendall Walling being the winning pitcher. In the 12-6 win over Carson County, Ken Cates was winning Pitcher. Britt Bostick hit two big homers during the Carson County game. This team is going into district play this week; and, having lots of fun!

A WELCOME HOME to Nobie Cates, son of Roy and Sherrie, who is visiting for a short leave from Japan. After staying just long enough to enjoy some of mom's yummy cooking, Nobie will drive to San Francisco.

VELTA HORD IS one of the many Gene Howe area ladies keeping very busy this summer. She has already racked up two conventions! One was to Odessa with husband, Macky, and son, Stan. This trip was to a West Texas - New Mexico florists convention.

Next trip was to Dallas all by her lonesome for the Texas State Florist Convention. Velta assisted in the design school held during this convention. The Hords, owners of Longhorn Florist, Inc. (formerly Mabens of Amarillo), set up booths at the Trades Fair Center. They managed to have lots of fun while doing a little work!

WE IN THE Gene Howe area wish to extend a great big "Welcome to our Territory" to the Fred Stewart family. Lynda Stewart (the Mrs.) is Velta's sister, and for remembering sake — attended the painting class at Gene Howe last spring.

The Stewarts have three children. Scott is six-years-old and will be a first grader at Gene Howe this fall. The twins, Clint and Chad, are two-years-old, will enjoy Gene Howe Park 'til they are old enough to enjoy Gene Howe school.

The family has moved onto Wilshire Street from the Amarillo environs. Fred is associated with the Strauss-Frank Wholesale Parts Company in Amarillo.

GWEN HENWOOD IS another Gene Howe lady who has been busy, busy, busy. At home and away. Gwen is currently involved in teaching a sewing class at the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. Her students are having lots of fun while making lots of pretty garments. Gwen and hubby Frank (who is known in some circles as the "Ump") have squeezed in some exciting fun for their houseguests.

Gwen's mom, Vera Chattell of San Diego, visited about a week, as did Gwen's brother, Allen of Albuquerque. Frank's brother, Jerry from Alburn, Wash., and his family joined in on the visiting. Everyone was treated to a showing of "TEXAS" and a trip to the museum in Canyon. Shopping, eating and baseball games came in for their fair share of attention, too.

SPEAKING OF BASEBALL — the Gene Howe area has found itself the proud possessor of several more championship teams! One being the fifth grade girls co-coached by Kenneth Drost and George Schmidt!

The girls took first place in tournament play. This after winning over Forest Hill 17-15, in which game Kaki Mulherin, Deanna Henwood and Tracy Gillis hit homeruns; and, after winning over Willow Vista 20-1.

Following the Forest Hill win the team went to Ellwood Park for its end-of-the-season picnic. The coaches presented the girls with very impressive trophies, and the girls presented the coaches with some well-earned trophies!

Oh, yeah. The team boosters (otherwise known as parents) played a humdinger game against their champion-rated children. It was a close game. Real close. Alas and alack. Upon final talley, though, the girls won 199-1½.

TANYA HOLT CALLED in with the results of the first and second grade girls game with Whittier. Darla Campbell, Dawn Brennon and Shannon Baker were homerun hitters. Darla and Allison Kitten each whammed out grandslams with bases loaded. In the game against Whittier, Darla racked up three homers, Billie Sanders two and Kimberly Thompson and Debbie Dove each hit homers.

Tanya sends thanks to her parents, who, she says, earned outstanding sportsmanship honors. She also thanks her co-coach, Jackie Mayfield, for her smilingly tireless co-coaching. Gloria Ralls gets a gold star as scorekeeper; Dale Betty gets a gold star for serving as practice helper; and Jimmy Morris gets forgiven for all those "wrong calls" while serving as ump. (Just jesting — Jimmy did a great job and his help is mucho appreciated).

LARRY BROOKS CALLED in with the good news that the third grade boys T-ball team had won consolation in tournament play! Another nerve-racking win over St. Andrews (19-18) found the boys going into the last inning one run behind. John Brooks hit a heart-warming goodie, bringing in the winning run. Michael Rhea was homerun hitter. The team also won over Highland Park, 12-6.

Gene Powers is co-coach of this team, which has had a good season and gobs of fun.

City Must Act Again On Insurance Codes

Canyon city commissioners will have to pass another federally-required resolution before local homeowners will be eligible to apply for flood insurance for property in flood-prone areas.

City Manager George Loudder said this week commissioners will have to pass another resolution assuring federal officials the city intends to strictly enforce a code system concerning construction of buildings in areas identified as flood-prone.

Few homes already standing in the city are affected by inability to acquire flood insurance from private companies. A recent federal law prohibits lending institutions from making loans for construction of homes or buildings in flood-prone areas.

The codes to be adopted by the city would limit construction in those areas.

A special meeting of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission general assembly will be held at 1 p.m. today at the Villa Inn Convention Center in Amarillo to discuss the flood insurance program. Rex Williams of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development will explain the program and answer questions.

The Barnett family has lived in Canyon for two weeks and they have found it a wonderful place to live. The Barnett's live at 1211 5th Ave.

Barnett's Adjusting To Canyon Life

Having lived in Ft. Worth for eight years, the James Barnett family is finding several adjustments that must be made to small town living even though both Barnett and his wife grew up in Tulia.

Mrs. Barnett said that she did not realize they had grown accustomed to "big city life."

The Barnetts, James, his wife Lana, and daughters, Tammy, age 15, and Tracy, age 13, said they enjoy Canyon life. Mrs. Barnett stated that when they moved to Canyon the neighbors helped unload the furniture and prepared lunch and supper for the family on their first day here.

Barnett works out of a local union in Amarillo and does paint contraction on his own in Canyon. He has worked under interior decorators and likes to "make something pretty out of something commonplace." Work as a painter seems to be an inherited trait of the Barnett family. His father and other relatives also worked as painters.

He did much of the art work in a chinese restaurant in Forum 303 in Arlington, Tex. Forum 303 is one of the newer shopping malls in Arlington which is located between Dallas and Ft. Worth.

The family likes to travel and view historical sites of Texas history. Mrs. Barnett enjoys writing poetry and writing about Texas history.

The Barnetts have lived in Canyon for two weeks.

Joe D. Slack of Archer City, Tex. recently retired after 30 years of teaching public schools.

He was born and raised in Canyon and received his BS degree from West Texas State University. He earned the master's degree at North Texas State University and did graduate work at Midwestern, Texas A&M and the University of Texas.

Slack, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Slack of Canyon, has taught the past 19 years in Wichita Falls. He was a civilian instructor at Sheppard Air Force Base in the Veterans Vocational Schools for 10 years and for the past 10 years was Coordinator of Industrial Cooperative Training in Wichita Falls High School. Previously he had taught in Olton, Quitaque, Plainview and in Wagon Mound, N.M.

He is a member of the NEA, TSTA, Wichita Falls City Teachers, Masonic Lodge 708 in Archer City, past Worshipful Master; 32nd degree, Scottish Rite Lubbock Consistory and member of the Methodist Church where he was a former teacher of the Men's Bible Class.

Slack and his wife, the former Margaret Ellen Gowdy, have resided in Archer City for 28 years. Their immediate plans following retirement included a five week trip to Scotland, England, Wales and Paris. The special trip was a combined retirement and 40th wedding anniversary celebration for the couple.

They are parents of four children including J. D. Slack, Jr., associated with Mitchell Energies in Dallas; Gowdy Slack, with Texas Electric in Wichita Falls; Mary Webb, a special education teacher in Bowie; and Celie Waldrip, creative writing teacher at Cincinatti University in Ohio. They also have 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Slack has five sisters and two brothers including Mrs. Ila Jennings of Palo Duro, Mrs. Mae Coffee of Canyon, Mrs. Jimmye Bonds of Happy, Mrs. Sarah Thompson of Canyon, Mrs. Jean Lockhart of Austin, Tom Slack of Perryton and Herbert Slack of Tucumcari, N.M.

Pen Women Learn Plot For Writing

Panhandle Pen Women met at Wyatt's Cafeteria in Amarillo Tuesday, July 16, to hear a program on the "plotting of a book, short story or article" which was given by Etta Lynch of Lubbock.

On "book plotting" Etta Lynch said that "your story must be different to hold the interest of a reader. It must include conflict, crisis and solution in the story. You must start with an idea that you can share with the public, even if it will make you look foolish."

Next meeting for the club will be Sept. 17 at Wyatt's Cafeteria where Dan True, local television weatherman, will be guest speaker.

Ann Brown, president, was in charge of the business meeting attended by 41 members. The group primarily meets in the Canyon-Amarillo area although members come from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas as well as the Texas Panhandle.

Members from Canyon, other than Mrs. Brown, include Geneva Berry, Glenna Wilson, Anita Low, Jewell Hill, Mary Parker, Jean Galloway, Marjorie Brewer and former Canyon residents, Mary Caballero and Lois Clifford, who both now reside in Amarillo.

Winners of the short story contest held recently were reported by Mrs. Brown to include fiction writings by Arline Harris of Lubbock, first place; Jean Galloway of Canyon, second place; Carolyn Hamilton of Clarendon, third place; and Dolores Spencer of Amarillo, honorable mention.

Mrs. Ray Fullerton spent a few days last week in Pampa visiting her son, Edward Lehnick.

Mrs. H.W. Burrus of 2508 10th Ave. displays two bunches of "mile-long" greenbeans she's growing in her garden this summer. Mrs. Burrus said she got seed for the beans, some of which have grown to a length over 30 inches, from a friend, planted them by a chain link fence and let them grow. The vine has since grown to the top of the fence and the beans stretch almost to the ground. The longest bean picked so far from her vine is 31 inches in length, she said. Mrs. Burrus said the beans may be funny-looking, but they're good eating.

High school football has the largest budget in the athletic department, with expenditures of $14,290 anticipated. Football is expected to make $11,500 through gate receipts.

In other business, Jacobs told board members the school district's new vocational education building should be completed before the opening of the fall term in late August. It was suggested the board sponsor an open house and invite the public to view the new building, which is on the high school campus.

Board members okayed an increase in per day wages for substitute teachers in the system. Substitutes will be paid $17 per day for the first 10 days they teach for a sick teacher. After the 10-day period, they will be paid $20 per day due to a heavier long-term work load.

Jacobs announced that Mrs. Ruth Holladay, secondary curriculum coordinator, has received a $17,000 federal grant for the fall term to begin programs in individualized instruction in junior high school mathematics.

Mrs. Holladay explained the funding will allow for teacher training in individualized instruction techniques and will also pay for outside consultants and resource materials.

"We have 80 families in there and that'll give you a 240-cars-per-day county," Fulgenzi said. "Caliche roads were not designed to do that."

He noted the county has spent about $9100 to grade and caliche the road during the past two years, yet taxes from those 80 families has only totalled about $725 for the two-year period.

"It's back to the old story," Commissioner Paul Lindsey said. "People want to move to the country and want city services on a rural tax base."

Noting that the road is an all-weather road, Lindsey said "there are a lot of people out in the country who'd love to have that rough, all-weather road."

Bill Butler said the road is "rough but passable — but you can't drive too fast."

Mrs. Fay Hodges, who lives in the area, told commissioners she would return in early August to make a formal presentation concerning the road problem.

County Judge Woody Pond announced that the elevator in the north annex of the Canyon courthouse is again leaking.

PALISADES PALAVER

By MILDRED TURNER

Hello Everyone:

SURE BEEN MISSING you. We left on June 28th for "Lindsey Hide Away" (on Lake Tenkiller). We took Pam and Debbie Lindsey of Hereford (Clay's daughters) with us.

We had a pleasant trip down except for one thing; lost my small overnight case from the luggage rack on top. We heard the bump but was passing a bus and by the time we could get back, it was gone. It was surely needed as I had all those things that women carry along. I purchased the bare necessities at Tahlequah, Okla., about 15 miles from the "Hide Away."

As soon as we get unloaded we always go jump in the lake. Then we clean the cabin and my trailer, airing everything. The next day we drove over to my sister's (I.B., Mae, and Sonja Dodson).

I.B. is no longer the produce man at Harris in Springdale but started him a fruit stand last April in an area nearby. Their fruit stand is really booming. Sonja and Mae were so busy and while there I.B. came in with a load of watermelons, etc., from Joplin, Mo., just across the line.

Garland laid the watermelons on the scales; I marked the weight while Pam, Debbie, Janet and Sheree relayed them on to I.B. to stack in the cooler.

We were surprised at how fast that load of watermelons went. I.B. sold 30 to a church for a feast they were having. I.B. and Mae loaded us down with honey, melons, fruit and vegetables and after closing, came over to the "Hide Away" and spent the night with us.

The next three days we spent mostly cleaning the yard and in the lake, alternately. When we finished the yard we sprinkled this powdered goop all over to discourage chiggers, ticks, and snakes.

We were now ready for the reunion which is usually around July 4th. Lloyd Lindsey from Tennessee was the first to arrive. Next came the Clay Lindseys of Hereford, the Gene Webbs from Palisades, Bob Lindseys from Tulsa and the Dodsons from over on Beaver Lake.

There were more than usual missing for various reasons this year. Tim Lindseys from Alabama, Charles Lindseys from Indiana, Joe Lindseys from Oregon, and Weldon Lindseys from California; also, the Dodson's daughter, the Johnny Pellins from Kansas, our three daughters, Sara and John Bowie from Tenaha, Tex., Belva and J.T. Winters from Houston, and Dan and Carolyn Bailey from the Palisades.

There is usually a set rule for no fishing during these three days so that all will be together more. The fishermen usually have to come and fish a little early but this year we broke this rule as we were fewer in number so Lloyd and his crew of one of his sons, Danny, Bob's son, Donald, and Clay's son, Robert, caught enough fish for a fish fry.

Once we went to what we call the cold spot, near the power plant on the dam where the water is like ice. Some fished, played in the water, took pictures, hiked, and had a watermelon feast.

Another day we went over to the Cookson docks where we always go taking pictures, riding the row boats, pedal boats, etc. Judy and I raced Clay and Gene on the pedal boats. We won by giving it all we had and getting a head start! We did not ski any this year, but some of us did go for the mid-night swim. We also had our jamboree with music and singing.

We decided since there weren't so many there this year we could also do a little work — painted a little and made some new curtains. We all plan on putting forth great effort to get all to be there next year.

One of the most pleasant things happened to us when we returned home. My overnight case had been returned and was at the P.O. As I looked through it there was my tooth brush, vitamins, make-up, gown, wind-up clock, and Bible with notes, etc.

I wondered what opinion the finder had of me. I can tell you I felt so good to know that someone would take the time to mail it to me, must be a fine person — honest and kind is my opinion of him.

I was especially glad to get my old tick-tock that I carry any time I go to spend the night and my old Bible all scribbled and used and slept with. The man called and talked to Garland; told that he got my name from the vitamin bottle. This nice person is Mr. A.E. Lovett of Cheyenne, Okla.

When some one says "The world has gone to the dogs," I always say "No, it hasn't," when I think of the many wonderful people like Mr. Lovett of Cheyenne, Okla.

interests are in the fine arts.

After graduating from WT in 1947 with a degree in speech, Lair went to Baylor to earn his law degree. Mrs. Lair majored in music during her three-year stay through 1946. Since 1969, Lair has also been a member of the Phoenix Club, an association of friends and former students of the university whose donations go to scholarships for outstanding high school students.

"All of us at WTSU are deeply grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Lair for this splendid gift," said Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president. "Their deep interest in the university and especially in the fine arts is indeed gratifying.

"The Lairs have made a substantial contribution toward construction of the fine arts building which we need so much."

Currently, a fund drive is being undertaken by the WTSU Ex-Students Association to raise monies for construction of the building.

"We are very pleased former students are so willing to invest in the future of the university," Keith Winter, director of development, said. "We hope others will follow the pattern set by Mr. and Mrs. Lair and this is the first in a series of large gifts to the university."

Construction on the building is expected to begin in the summer of 1975. An architectural firm has already been hired. The proposed $3 million structure will be constructed north of the university complex south.

"It's only a question of costs and how big an area you'd need" for the energy conversion unit, he said. "I think if we do some scrounging and let them (the city) do the construction it would be cheaper than buying a boiler and paying a gas bill from now on."

Nelson, as head of the WT department, is also working on utilization of wind energy and has produced figures which indicate the Amarillo area would be the most ideal area in the nation for wind energy conversion.

TWQB should be "substantially higher" in 1976.

With the door closed to the TWQB funding for next year, Loudder said he will travel to Austin later this summer and talk with officials about other avenues for funding.

"I don't know but there may be some other avenues," he said.

He said other federal funding possibilities are opening which might be available for the project.

The city had requested about $380,000 to construct seven miles of pipeline and a pump station to transport effluent from the Canyon sewer plant to the Nance Ranch.

Tentative plans call for the water to be used for irrigation on the ranch.

The city plant processes about a million gallons of water per day, which it currently pours into Tierra Blanca Creek east of the city.

Currently, the city of Hereford is using effluent from its sewer treatment plant to irrigate a portion of a section farm that city owns in Deaf Smith County.

Water flowing from the Canyon plant currently supports fish life in the creek.

Eagles Rated Number One By Panhandle Football Magazine

"Football Fever" is burning on many a Canyon Eagle brow since "Top 'O Texas Football," a magazine concerning high school and college football from the Texas Panhandle to the Lubbock area, picked the Eagles to be number one in district 1-AAA. The Eagles are picked sixth from among the AAA schools in the Top 'O Texas.

After two seasons of not getting the breaks, "Top 'O Texas" states that Canyon should rebound in "spectacular fashion as they face the 1974 season with impressive size, experience and even some speed for a change."

After finishing last season with a 3-6-1 record, the Eagles will again face a grueling schedule against six 4-A schools.

Schools faced by the Eagles this year from 4-A districts will include Lubbock Monterey, rated second in district 4-AAAA and third in the top five 4-A schools in the Top 'O Texas, Borger, rated fourth in district 3-AAAA, Amarillo Caprock, rated sixth in district 3-AAAA, Hereford, rated fourth in district 4-AAAA, Pampa, rated fifth in district 3-AAAA, and Amarillo Palo Duro, first in district 3-AAAA and second in Top 'O Texas 4-A ball.

Fourteen lettermen will be back playing for the purple and white of Canyon this year. Five of these were offensive starters and seven started for the defense. Three of the 14 returnees earned all-district honors last year. Those three, around which most of the team strategy will be based this year, include Jim Ward, 5-9, 175-pound full back, Steve McCormick, 6-1, 186-pounds, and Kelly Forehand, 6-1, 215-pounds, both defensive standouts. Forehand was also picked among the top 22 3-A players in Top 'O Texas for the coming year.

Garre LaGrone, who will move from wingback to quarterback, Mark Prichard, 5-11, 170-pound tackle and Bo Bridges, 5-10, 170-pound guard, will be returning to the offensive lineup.

On defense, halfback Kevin Raef, 5-10, 160-pounds, linebackers Andy Grimes, 5-10, 170-pounds, and Wayne Robinson, 5-9, 180-pounds will be returning to add experience to the defense. LaGrone and Ward will also assist on defense experience.

Also aiding in experience this year will be an unbeaten freshman team filled with replacements for the varsity. One hundred boys should be vying for the varsity spots this fall.

For the first time, Canyon will field an all sophomore team this year. This should assist in giving experience to boys who would not normally get to play.

Ron Mills, head football coach at Canyon High, will be assisted by Gary Conner, V.J. Duncan, Bob Schneider, John Morrow, B.B. Kendrick, and new assistant coach Michael Auld.

Canyon will face the same district opposition as last year. The district competition for Canyon will begin October 13 when the Eagles meet Dumas in Dumas.

Dumas will be suffering from lack of experience this year with only 10 returning lettermen. Only two offensive and three defensive lettermen will be returning. Though Dumas lacks size and speed, they do have the winning tradition which has enabled them to produce title contenders for the past few seasons. Dumas will face three teams in pre-season that will also face the Eagles. Amarillo Palo Duro is at the top of the Dumas schedule. Palo Duro, rated number one in their district, is the last opponent to face the Eagles prior to the start of Eagle competition in district play. Pampa and Borger will play the Demons of Dumas also. If pre-season games tell the strength of a team, Canyon should know the strengths of Dumas prior to the start of District 1-AAA play.

In the second game of district play, Canyon will face Perryton at Kimbrough Stadium November 1. The Eagles drew an open date on October 25. The Perryton Rangers, who finished first in district play last year and was beaten out by Monahans in bi-district, lost seven offensive and 10 defensive starters to graduation last spring. Perryton is rated second in the district. Perryton will also face three pre-season opponents on Canyon's schedule. These include Borger, Pampa and Caprock.

The Eagles will face the Muleshoe Mules in Muleshoe Nov. 8. Chuck Stout will be in his first year at the helm of the Muleshoe team. He will face a long road with only eight returning lettermen. Though plagued by inexperience, size and speed in some key spots in the front line will be an asset. Last year the Mules failed to win a district game. This year the Mules face all the members of district 3-AA in pre-season. This includes Dimmitt, Olton, Friona, Littlefield and Morton. They will also face Portales, N.M. in pre-season.

The final district game could possibly be the deciding game of district 1-AAA play. The Eagles will play number three ranked Levelland in Canyon Nov. 15. The Loboes of Levelland will play a well balanced pre-season schedule for a 3-A school. They will play two 2-A schools, Littlefield and Floydada, three 3-A schools, Brownfield, Vernon and Seminole, and one 4-A, Lubbock High.

The possible weakness evident on the Lobo team is the lack of returning starters at the skilled positions.

Lions Club won the men's softball tournament held in Canyon July 19-23. The Lions defeated First Baptist Church in the final game by a 10-5 score. On their trip to the title, Lions downed Keeling Construction in the quarter-final game by a 3-2 score. They defeated Calvary Baptist Monday night in the semi-finals by a score of 22-10.

WTSU Buffaloes Set Sights On Successful Season

With last year's 2-9-0 season record and a 1-5-0 conference record behind them, the WT Buffaloes are setting their sights on the first day of work outs Aug. 22 in preparation for their Sept. 14 opener in Des Moines, Iowa against Drake.

According to Jim Campbell, athletic business manager at WTSU, season ticket sales for Buffalo home games should go over the 2500 mark by the end of the week. Campbell said that with people coming in off vacation, sales were increasing. The first home game for WT is Sept. 21 against New Mexico State.

The Buffs will be returning 32 lettermen from last year's injury riddled team. This is 12 less lettermen than returned for the start of the 1973 campaign but still enough to add experience and depth where needed.

According to Tommy Bryant, sports information director at WTSU, injuries will probably be a key to the success or failure of this year's team.

After meeting with limited success in the passing department last year, WT will again go with the Wish-bone offense which they used in the spring. A few wrinkles will be added to give more variety to the offensive thrust. Along with the straight Wishbone-T formation, flankers and wingback sets will be used.

Mike Wartes will be over center as the season gets underway. Wartes regained his starting berth with his good showing in spring drills. Wartes lost his position last fall to Don Nava, a junior college transfer. Nava threw for 1,384 yards last fall but did not offer the running threat found in Wartes. Wartes should offer the better threat in the Wish-bone formation.

Wartes lost his starting role last fall due to a shoulder injury in the spring of his freshman year. He was the regular quarterback for WT during his sophomore year.

The Buffaloes return two leading rushers from the 1973 team. Halfbacks Jimmy Lisle and Rick Schleider should be the Buffs leading ground gainers this year. Lisle, often injured last year, underwent surgery in the spring to correct a hamstring muscle.

Junior All-American Ricky Rice, junior letterman Mickey Matthew and sophomore Eddie Richardson will assist in the running back slot.

Richardson will probably also handle the punting for WT as he did during last season.

Vying for starting assignments at the fullback slot are Clois Burgess and Johnny Darden, both returning lettermen, and Garvin McCarrell who made a stab at the position during spring drills.

According to Bryant, McCarrell is a contender because of his ability on the break-away run.

Leading the line this year will be junior tackles Jeff Lloyd and John Jacobi. Also senior tight end Merced Solis will add to the Buff offense. Lloyd and Jacobi saw action last year when both took over starting roles following injuries.

Solis, a 221 pounder from Mission, Texas in his last year at WT, is a contender for top honors at WT. Last year he led the MVC tight ends in receiving with 35 snags for 499 yards or an average of 14.3 yards per catch. He has 46 career receptions for 660 yards which places him eighth best in the WTSU school history. He will start for the third consecutive year. During his two years of varsity action he has been one of the team's better offensive blockers according to Bryant.

At the end of spring drills, Jackie White and Robert Brown had earned starting duty at offensive guard. Alton Cranford will see action at center.

Tracy Dixon, 9.2 sprinter from Lockney, caught 15 passes last year and should be on the receiving end this year of several Wartes passes.

Junior college transfers will help fill gaps in the defensive front line. New defensive coordinator Leon Fuller is overseer of the Buff change from a five-man front line to a four-man line.

Floyd Jones and Bob Hamilton, junior college transfers, earned starting berths on the Buffalo front line last spring. Jones at tackle and Hamilton at end. Hamilton will have to contend with John Ayers, according to Bryant. Ayers, who missed spring drills because of an injury, will probably anchor the line if he is healthy this fall.

Leading the linebackers this year is senior Bruce Davis. Davis started in 21 consecutive games as middle linebacker for the Buffaloes. Steve Rogers and Juan Garza will probably see action at the outside linebacker positions because of their showing in spring drills. Garza, a corner back as a sophomore, started some last year at defensive end. He was moved to linebacker last spring.

Mike Lozano has been shifted to a safety position after playing back-up man at split end last year. The former Amarillo Caprock quarterback has made a successful adjustment to his new position according to Bryant.

Arcadio Rivera will join Lozano in the secondary.

Bruce Wyre, 5-11, 158 pound junior, will be placement kicker for WT this year. Wyre had a near perfect year last fall having hit nine of nine extra points and six of seven field goals. His three field goals against Louisville in the '73 season final game was good for a share of the school record for most number of field goals in a single game. His 58 yard field goal against Louisville was a school and Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium record. His other field goals in that game were from 42 and 32 yards away. His only miss of the season came in Louisville from 42 yards out. Wyre, a soccer style kicker, could also see action at split end this fall.

David Herber of Amarillo, and Mike Podzemny of Canyon missed spring drills, but could see action this fall.

Assistant Football Coach Named At CHS

Mike Auld has been added to the coaching staff at Canyon High School. Auld will be replacing Rick Mantooth who has resigned from coaching but will continue in the classroom teacher situation.

Auld, a graduate of Borger High School and North Texas State University at Denton, played college football at Southwestern State at Weatherford, Okla. for one year. Auld was a member of the 1962 Borger football team that went to the state finals.

Auld, who will also teach World Geography and American history in Canyon High School, has coached at Frisco, Abernathy and Lindale. While with Canyon High, he will be assistant coach on the varsity football team and assistant baseball coach. He will also work with the basketball program at CHS.

Auld said that his goal in coaching was to "work with young people and guide them in the right direction."

Auld, his wife and their three-year-old daughter have lived in Canyon for one week.

Canyon Downed In Little League All-Star Play

Canyon fell short in their bid for the Little League All-Star district title in Pampa Monday night. Borger downed the Canyon team 9-2.

Kendall Walling was the losing pitcher for Canyon. He faced 36 Borger batters and struck out eight. He gave up no walks and 12 hits. Canyon defense committed three errors during the game.

Walling hit a home run in the third inning for the first Canyon run. The other Canyon run came when Randy Johnson hit a single, then stole second and third base and came home on a passed ball.

In the game Canyon got six hits.

Borger scored their nine runs off of 12 hits and committed two errors. Sessions was the winning pitcher for Borger. He struck out eight Canyon batters and walked two of the 27 batters he faced.

Borger scored two runs in the first inning, three in the fourth, one in the fifth and three in the sixth. Borger got one homerun which came in the fourth inning off the bat of their centerfielder, Lang.

MVC Opponents Look Strong For Coming Conflicts With WTSU Buffaloes

When the WTSU Buffaloes take the field in September they will be facing a conference schedule which has all Missouri Valley Conference teams picked to overcome the Buffaloes. The Buffs are rated sixth in a field of six.

The first three games for the Buffs will be against three MVC opponents: Drake, New Mexico State and Wichita State.

Drake, recuperating from last year's injury list, will find MVC competition well and strong as they begin season play. Drake lost only 14 lettermen at the end of last season. They will have 30 returning lettermen of which six were offensive starters and seven were starters on defense.

Jonas Sears, a 6-1, 190 pound quarterback who as a freshman led the Drake Bulldogs to share the MVC crown in 1972 will be back in the line-up this fall. Sears did not play a down of football last season. Vying with Sears for the starting nod will be sophomore Jeff Martin, six feet, 185 pounds, who last year threw for 1,010 yards during regular season play. Because of Sears running ability, he should be at the helm for the Bulldogs when the season gets underway.

Drake will run the option more this year to take advantage of Sears' running ability and the now healthy tailback Jerry Heston and fullback Jim O'Connor. In 1972 Heston and O'Connor totaled over 1,600 yards rushing and caught 52 passes for 636 yards. They scored a combined 16 touchdowns in the process of gaining the over-2,000 yards. Heston and O'Connor missed much of the 1973 season.

Drake will also be returning its top four pass receivers. Flanker Ken Ferguson, split ends Mike Murphy and Dave Roberson and tight end Hal Proppe combined to catch 102 passes for 1,274 yards in 1973.

Three starters will return to the linebacker position on defense. Co-captains Glenn Lott, 6-3, 200 pound senior, Bruce Samples, 6-0, 220 pound senior, and Jesus Torres, 6-1, 210 pound senior. The Bulldogs still need depth in the defensive secondary. WTSU should have a good night in the air when they meet Drake in Des Moines, Iowa, September 14, to start their season play.

WTSU will face New Mexico State in Canyon Sept. 21 at 7:30 p.m. for the second game of the season and the second conference game.

New Mexico State lost 18 lettermen from the 1973 team. They will return 23 lettermen of which five started on offense and eight started on defense during the 1973 season.

A key area that will need to be filled for NMS this year is the quarterback slot since Joe Pisarcik's graduation came last spring. Senior Doug Baker, 6-4, 220 pounds, is a good option man but could lose out in fall drills to two freshmen: Jim Williams and Rick Horacek.

Another area that will need assistance is in the area of pass receiving. All-American Hank Cook, who had 65 receptions for 1,111 yards, is lost to the Aggies through graduation.

Defense for the Aggies will be led by Terry Shiveley, 6-1, 225 pound senior, who tallied 67 tackles, 39 assists and 16 times caught the quarterback behind the line of scrimmage. Inexperience will dominate the linebacker spots. Only Jim Anderson will return for the 1974 season.

Jim Bradley, head coach for the Aggies, can look forward to a strong season if his quarterback and receivers jell and linebackers can be found for defense.

Sept. 28 will find the Buffaloes again on home turf as they meet the Wichita State Shockers in Canyon.

Jim Wright, new head coach for the Shockers has done a superb job of rounding up 26 bluechippers for the future of the Wichita State team. Though these 26 will only be freshmen this year, the future for Wichita State football looks bright.

Wichita has lost 25 lettermen from last year's 4-7-0 team. Only 28 will return this year with only four returning starters on offense and four starters on defense.

State needs help at the helm as their quarterback will be the inexperienced Chet Pennock. Though Pennock started two games last season, he threw for only 103 yards. Competing for the starting assignment at quarterback will be six sophomores and two freshmen.

Stan Ricketts, senior split-end, will hope to duplicate last season when he made 36 receptions for 615 yards and was named MVP for the Shockers. Leading rusher for the Shockers last year, Fred Speck, has decided to drop out of football but C. J. Peachlyn who gained 576 yards in 1973 and Mark Ayesh who gained 213 yards in '73 will fill the gap.

The interior line was almost wiped out in graduation for the Shockers. Coach Wright did not forget this fact during recruiting season as he signed eight offensive linemen on for the coming year.

Defensively the Shockers will have a problem playing against the run.

The fourth conference game for WT will be Oct. 19 in Tulsa, Okla. when they take on the pre-season favored Tulsa Hurricane. Tulsa, coming off of a 6-5-0 season which led to MVC co-championship with North Texas State, lost only 12 lettermen from the 1973 team. There will be 38 returning lettermen of which five are offensive starters and eight are defensive starters.

Tulsa will have two men vying for the quarterback job. Jeb Blount, a 6-3, 200 pound junior, hit 61 out of 109 aerials for 849 yards and seven TDs last season. Senior Joe McCulley hit 132 out of 227 for 1,579 yards and 11 TDs. Blount will probably get the nod because of his running ability.

Split end Steve Largen who caught 33 passes for 501 yards and flanker Leonard Isabell who caught 29 for 410 yards and Murphy Mitchell, tight end, who had 15 receptions for 208 yards will return to assist in moving the ball down field.

All Tulsa running backs return this year.

Tulsa defense will be bolstered by five front line returning starters. Linebacking on defense will have experience and will be led by all-conference Al Humphrey.

WT's last two games of the season will be conference games. The Buffs take on North Texas State Nov. 16 in Canyon in an afternoon game. On Nov. 30, WT will meet Louisville in Louisville.

When the Buffs meet the 1973 co-champions of the MVC, North Texas State, and the MVC Coach of the Year and Texas College Coach of the Year, Hayden Fry, they will meet a team that is not as strong as last year.

State lost its starting quarterback but this will not be an area of weakness as junior Tony Ford and sophomore Greg Van Ness will be prepared to fill the role.

Receivers for this year will be relatively new faces at NTS. Running backs will be the same but they will need to do better than the combined total of 815 yards netted last year.

"The Mean Green" should find this season tough going but could be surprising.

In the final MVC game, WT will travel to Louisville. The Cardinals lost 20 lettermen from the 5-6-0 1973 team. They will have only 18 returning lettermen with five offensive starters and eight defensive starters returning.

Walter Peacock, 5-7, 165 pound speedster, tallied 1,294 yards and eight touchdowns last year. The quarterback job will be open unless Len DePaola recovers from his broken thumb suffered late last fall.

A strong defense will be an asset for the Cardinals this year.

Also on the WTSU schedule will be Southern Mississippi at Canyon on Oct. 5, Idaho on Oct. 12 in Moscow, Idaho, Utah State in an afternoon game in Logan, Utah, Lamar in an afternoon game in Canyon and Tampa in Tampa.

Archery Growing In Popularity

Archery as a sport is growing across the country as are all lifetime sports. Richard Ortiz, who will be an archery instructor at Texas A&M at the start of the fall semester, said that archery is something that can be enjoyed at all ages and by both male and female.

There are basically six types of activity that can be carried out because of archery. There is field archery, target archery, klot shooting, wand shooting, flu-flu arrows and fishing.

Field archery consists of the archer walking along a path shooting at various sized targets and various distances. Field archery is the type used in the olympic games according to Ortiz.

Target archery is the most common practiced. Target archery is when the archer is in a stationary position and shoots at a bullseye target. Various games such as tic-tac-toe may be played in target shooting.

Klot shooting is described by Ortiz as "Robin Hood shooting" in nature. The archer stands in an area where he cannot see the target and is told the direction and distance to the target. The target lies flat on the ground and points are awarded according to the closeness of the arrow to the target.

Wand shooting is the archer standing at a certain distance from a two inch board which is stuck upright in the ground. Points are awarded according to the number of hits by the archer.

Flu-flu arrows are used in bird hunting. The arrows are a straight shaft with a large ball-like feather grouping on the end of the arrow that will allow the arrow to travel only a certain distance.

One of the reasons for the growth of archery according to Ortiz is the use of the bow in hunting. He stated that the stalking of the prey, usually a deer or smaller animal, is the best part of the sport. Also the archer must be exact in his shot. He stated that hunting arrows have a razor sharp arrow on the tip that hopefully will pierce the heart or cut a major artery in the animal.

Ortiz said that while he taught archery in another part of the state, one of his students shot a havaline, a Russian boar. Ortiz said that the student killed the havaline on the first shot. But the student told Ortiz that he was standing next to a tree just in case he missed.

In fishing, the arrow has prongs on the tip of the arrow which will not allow the arrow to be pulled out the same way it went in according to Ortiz. The [illegible] in fishing has rubber featners on the end of the shaft which enables the archer to continue to use the same arrow.

Ortiz, who taught archery at WTSU, said that he always had a full load of 40 students in each class. He feels that since both males and females may participate and there are no special uniforms to be worn, archery will continue to gain in popularity.

He said that the best way to learn to handle the bow and arrow is to stand at point blank range at the beginning. He said that the degree of success at this range is always an encouragement to the archer. Ortiz said that the next step is to back away from the target about five feet and begin looking for patterns that need to be corrected in the style used.

Ortiz said that the beginning archer should use a bow between 15 and 30 pounds. "He must use a bow that is comfortable" stated Ortiz. The weight of the bow dictates the thrust of the arrow. He stated that for hunting purposes, an archer needs to use a 50 to 70 pound bow.

Ortiz said that the most expensive equipment used should be the arrows. He said that a good aluminum arrow costs between $2 and $3. There is also an arrow straightener that can be purchased to prolong the life span of an arrow. Ortiz said that when one is learning, he must watch for a crooked arrow and if one is crooked then use it as the first or last arrow shot. He said that one arrow out of line could hamper the learning process.

Ortiz stated that if corners are cut in the expense, it should be in the purchase of the bow. He said that it is nothing uncommon to be able to purchase a bow at a reduced price when a store is attempting to reduce the stock of a line that is being replaced.

The cost of a bow varies from $35 to $200. Some specially made bows sell for $500.

Law of the College

A woman's advice

When the West Texas State University administration decided they needed the legal expertise of a full-time attorney, they hired a woman.

And Karen Johnson, the 26-year-old attorney from Houston was selected to first hold the position, is used to operating in a predominantly male world.

"I was one of probably eight women in a class of 144 to graduate from the Tech law school," Miss Johnson observed.

The tall, striking blond spent seven years at Texas Tech in Lubbock. The first four earned her a Bachelor of Science degree in education, with specializations in physical education and history. The last three were a hard road to a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree completed in 1973.

Law school, Karen describes, "tries to teach you to divorce your emotions from the situation you're considering."

While she feels "women are probably more emotional, or at least allowed to express it more," she does not let it interfere with her legal judgments.

"At work I'm a lawyer, at home I'm myself," she says.

"I didn't encounter any discrimination by the professors in law school because of my sex," she says. Although there was some initial reluctance on the male law students part to discuss sensitive areas such as rape and other sex-related crimes, soon it was just "law student to law student."

Karen was elected secretary of the Texas Tech Student Association in 1969-70, when she received the Texas Tech Leadership Award. A member of Mortar Board, a national senior women's honor society, the WT attorney was on the Dean's List for six semesters. Karen came to West Texas State with practical experience in University legal problems, having served as research assistant in the Tech Office of Legal Affairs.

Increasing numbers of women are going into the law profession, and, as Karen points out, "all the women in my graduating class are now practicing in some form or another."

"Women attorneys can better identify with the problems of a woman client," Karen says, "not that men can't identify, but that a woman lawyer is more of an advocate for solutions to help the woman as the sole parent."

It's more of a one-to-one relationship, she observes.

Back in her sophomore year at Tech, Karen decided she needed something more challenging than an education degree. "My father sensed my hesitation. When he asked me what I'd really like to do, I said, 'Well, if I were a boy, I'd go to law school.'" And that was all it took, in addition, to a commendable showing on the difficult law school entrance exams.

Politics was what first attracted Karen to the legal profession, though no longer. "Some day perhaps I may become active in politics, but not now."

A versatile woman and professional, divides her time between reviewing contracts and policies of the University, serving on various committees in both advisory and voting member capacities, and advising student groups. Decisions ranging from student residency matters to open records ramifications flow daily from her office. As chairman of the WTSU Women in Continuing Education Committee, she is involved in providing courses that would broaden the woman's scope of knowledge. Karen was a guest lecturer on legal matters in the Women in Continuing Education Seminar series offered by West Texas State late last spring. She also often guest lectures in University classes on the same subject. Concerned with recognizing academic excellence, Karen is presently organizing a women's honor society, The Scribes, to honor intellectualism and leadership in WT women students.

Karen describes herself as "anything but a women's libber." Whether higher education is necessary for a woman is a highly individual decision to Karen. "It depends on what they see as their role in society," she observes. "If they are content in the home and doing it well, then that is enough."

Recent changes in the law make women equal to the men, she notes, "but the laws are one thing, and how society reacts to them are another."

But being a woman in this modern society is exciting to Karen. "We are lucky we have so many roles we can play. Men's lives are pretty well set, ours aren't."

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Johnson of 5529 Valerie, Houston, and presently resides in Amarillo.
